

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A functional surface member comprising a support having a surface on which a graft polymer chain having a nonionic polar group in the side chain thereof is bonded and provided thereon a layer comprising adsorbed fine particle capable of polarly bonding to the polar group.
2. The functional surface member according to claim 1, wherein the fine particle capable of polarly bonding to the polar group is fine metal particle.